Product	30	Final Report	15	Final Report Writeup	12	70	8.4	The structure of the report was commendable, yet I anticipated further elaboration on the project vision, aims, and objectives. While user testing was included, it revealed minor issues within the app. Despite this, the project objectives were successfully achieved. However, there is room for improvement in leveraging user feedback more effectively to enhance the product.
				Client Handbook (based on feedback)	3	66.6666667	2	Thre were some minor isseus regarding the presneted handbook with the client
		Product	15	Delivered Product (based on feedback)	12	70	8.4	The client expressed satisfaction with the final product. However, it could be further improved if the product undergoes refinement based on feedback received from both the client and users.
				UAT (based on feedback)	3	100	3	The client was pleased with the professionalism demonstrated during the User Acceptance Testing (UAT) processes.
LSEP	10	LSEP	10	LSEP Achievement	10	70	7	The LSEP criteria were outlined in the report, although they could have been explored in more depth. Ben discussed these criteria within the report, and there was an attempt to align them with the project objectives. However, it was challenging to discern their reflection in the user feedback provided.

Process	30	GIT/Code contribution	10	45	4.50	Morgan and Edward had similar levels of contribution to the GitHub repository, although not as substantial as David and Pen's. Additionally, their contribution lacked consistency, especially towards the final submission date.
		Trello/Planning	10	70	7.00	Morgan made a commendable contribution to the Trello board, including cards relevant to project planning and tasks. However, I expected seeing a slightly higher number of motivational cards to further
		Attitude and Character	10	60	6.00	I appreciated Morgan's adeptness in navigating the team environment and his positive attitude towards both clients and staff.
Evaluation	10	Reflection writeup	5	60	3.00	It was enjoyable to read Morgan's reflection. He articulated the skills he acquired during the project, elaborated on the challenges he tackled, and provided insight into his experiences working within a team environment. Additionally, he adhered to the mentioned word count.
		Leadership Observation	5	60	3.00	Throughout the project, it was evident that all team members collaborated effectively with each other. Their communication was clear, and they demonstrated professionalism in their interactions
